About Stephanie Trager, JD

Stephanie Trager, founder of Intentional Paradigms, is a new earth storyteller, conscious futurist, lawyer, and OG coach guiding transformation and deep impact in visionary leaders, next gen stewards, and entrepreneurs for the past 25 years. Author and creator of multiple transformational modalities, she is currently working on a two-year applied research mission called 'The Wayfinders Path' bridging ancient intelligence, indigenous wisdom, with modern wisdom to activate our future human potential.

Stephanie was co-founder of a corporate responsibility law firm in the 90s, and helped preserve the last remaining stands of unprotected ancient redwoods. She became a lawyer when her friend was killed by a logger. From frontline activism to corporate litigation at Davis Polk, she leverages an expansive worldview, and an eclectic mix of off the beaten path experience and education to help leaders and organizations rethink purpose, climate, and impact, from vision to governance, to tapping into the future and architecting living systems- and the humans who envision them- for our new earth.

She serves on the Board of Dream Change, an NGO helping rematriate Indigenous land, served as chair of the American Bar Association's Environmental Justice Committee, authored articles on the Human Right to a Clean Environment, worked on Holocaust Reparations initiatives, co-created the first trial monitoring committee in the US to thwart judicial corruption, and serves as strategic advisor to non-profits, including Toniic Institute where she curated experiences and helped develop a three year educational curriculum for impact investors. With 5 planets in Aquarius, 8 planets in air, she is obsessed with the future and loves ancient trees.
